Resource Spotlight

Ask a Librarian

It will surprise no one that the library is a great resource on campus, but did you know that you can get expert help with your questions without even leaving your room? The library offers options to chat live, email, or schedule a one-on-one meeting with librarians that can do everything from helping you to find sources to answering your research questions.

Just go to lib.utexas.edu, click on Research Help & Support, and then click on Ask a Librarian.

Announcements & Events:
